Little Moments, Big Life Lessons – Inspired by Bluey

Sometimes the greatest lessons in life come from the simplest moments. Bluey, the lovable little blue dog, reminds us that childhood is all about playing, exploring, making mistakes and learning along the way. More importantly, she teaches us that every child is unique and that growing up isn't a race.

With Sports Day around the corner, this is such a lovely reminder that it's not about being the fastest or coming first. It's about having a go, cheering each other on, building confidence and, most importantly, having fun!

Bluey also reminds us as parents and teachers that children don't need grand gestures to feel special. Sometimes all they need is our time, encouragement and a little laughter.

A little thought to carry with you:

The moments that seem small to us often mean the world to our children.

Grade 00 Outing to The Lory Park Zoo

Our outing to The Lory Park Zoo was a wonderful day filled with fun, excitement and learning! The children loved the bus ride and enjoyed a lovely picnic with their friends.

We were thrilled to see so many amazing animals, including lions, cheetahs, leopards, tigers and the beautiful white lions. The two jaguars, one black and one beautifully patterned, were a big hit! We also enjoyed watching the playful gibbons swinging and showing off their tricks, as well as admiring the birds of prey and colourful flamingos.

A special highlight was an educational talk about reptiles, where the children had the opportunity to touch a tortoise, bearded dragon, chameleon and even a snake!

It was a fantastic day of adventure, discovery and making special memories. Our little explorers returned with happy hearts, big smiles and plenty of exciting stories to share!
